Green Ganpati idols gain foothold

Bookings for eco-friendly idols have jumped only marginally as sculpting of statues is a costly affair

ASHUTOSH M SHUKLA / Mumbai

The sustained efforts to encourage people to embrace eco-friendly Ganesh idols seems to be yielding results. The 64-year-old Shree Sarvajani Utsav Mandal has decided to install a 'green' statue of the deity this year. The move marks a significant shift as for more than two decades the mandal has been celebrating the festival with idols made from plaster of paris (PoP).

“We took the decision keeping in mind the environment, dissolving capacity of the idol and that it does not land up on shore the next day. We also wanted to get back to eco-friendly ways,” said Deepak Gabhane, a mandal member. Located at 1st Bhandari Street in Gol Deol, Girgaon, the mandal used to install idols made from 'shadu mati' Ganpati for nearly 35 years before switching on to PoP because the maker had grown old and PoP statues were becoming popular, too.

If sculptors are to be believed, the bookings for eco-friendly idols have jumped marginally this year as compared to 2022 despite the fact that 'green' idols are expensive. “This year, the number of Sarvajani Ganpatis we have made is marginally more as compared to the last year,” said Rajan Zad, a sculptor. He makes idols of paper and natural gum and only those that are over 7ft. “This year, I have also sent the idols outside of Mumbai,” said Zad, adding that he received eight orders last year while the figure rose to 10 now.

from 35 to 40 while household ones have jumped from 25 to 40. We had to turn away many mandals because it takes time to make a Sarvajani Ganpati. During monsoon, not much happens and then at the fag end it becomes difficult to cope with the demand.”

Mayekar said this time, too, his mandal will be making a 21-feet-tall eco-friendly idol for Vile Parlecha Peshwa, rechristened as Mumbaicha Peshwa. “Our Sarvajani idols range from three feet for societies to 21 feet. This year we are using paper and coconut husk besides natural glue. Last year, we used bananas and not coconut husks with paper,” he informed.

Chimaji Appa Memorial: Report sought by MCZMA

SURESH GOLANI / Mira-Bhayandar

At a time when officials from the Directorate of Archaeology and Museums are busy conducting surveys and site inspections to pave way for the makeover of the historic Janjire Dharavi Fort and Narveer Chimaji Appa Memorial at Chowk village in Uttan near Bhayandar, encroachments and illegal activities continue to flourish in the surrounding areas.

Apart from structures in the form of a sea front gazebo that falls under the Coastal Regulation Zone (CRZ), eateries serving or allowing liquor consumption are brazenly operating adjacent to the fort premises, the volunteers alleged.

Taking serious note of a complaint registered by a group of volunteers attached to the Janjire Dharavi Killa Jatan Samithi, the Maharashtra Coastal Zone Management Authority (MCZMA) has directed the district collector (Thane) to take appropriate action after verification and table the factual detailed action taken report at the earliest.

The letter was issued by under-secretary (environment department) Sanjay Sandanshiv. Notably, the Utan coastal police had filed an offence under section 68 of the Maharashtra Prohibition Act, 1949 against one illegal eatery for allowing illegal consumption of liquor in their premises on July 31.

While the state tourism department has disbursed Rs10 crore out of the Rs25 crore for the makeover project, the Mira Bhayandar

VISHAL SINGH / Mumbai

A 50-year-old resident of Malabar Hill lost Rs55 lakh to a potential part-time job offer she received on WhatsApp. In her enthusiasm to earn while working from home, she transferred the amount to the bank account of the caller but soon realised that she had been cheated of her hard-earned money. However, a quick call to the police helped her recover Rs21 lakh.

As per the woman's complaint to the south Mumbai cyber cell on August 7, she was offered an opportunity to earn by liking YouTube links through WhatsApp. Initially, she received Rs150 per like and got paid nine times. When offered a paid task, she began depositing money into the caller's account in the anticipation of getting paid back more.

She ended up transferring Rs55 lakh without any sign of money in her own account. When she demanded to be paid, she was asked to pay GST of Rs5 lakh. Suspecting having been cheated, she called the cyber cops, who froze the account in which the payment was paid and retrieved Rs21 lakh. The police said the legal process following the bank account freeze is underway.

Couple held for cheating public prosecutor

FPJ NEWS SERVICE / Mumbai

The Bangur Nagar police have arrested a wanted couple for alleged conspiracy to cheat a 39-year-old public prosecutor working at the Karnataka High Court. The couple allegedly made online transactions through Paytm and Gpay using the complainant's stolen iPhone and threatened to widely circulate a private 12-year-old video with his wife that they found on the device.

The accused couple has been identified as Fatima Sheikh and Mohammad Jameel Sheikh, residents of Ambernath. The case was registered against them in March this year.

The complainant, a resident of Bangalore, was introduced to Fatima Sheikh in January after her husband was arrested by the Karnataka police. She often met the complainant in his chamber to discuss her case. She allegedly sought financial help from him several times citing family problems, including her father-in-law's illness.

The complainant came to Mumbai on March 2 and Fatima invited him to Inorbit Mall in Malad for a meeting, where she went with her five-year-old daughter and took his iPhone for a selfie. On the pretext of going to the washroom, she disappeared with the phone. She left behind a note on the table saying she needed money.

When the phone was later returned, she had withdrawn Rs80,000 through Paytm and Gpay. When he demanded his money back, she threatened him with the video she had found on the phone.

After a complaint was lodged, the police launched a manhunt. On arrest, she confessed to the crime at the behest of her husband, now out on bail in the previous case.

Power bill fraud: ₹50k reversed

SURESH GOLANI / Mira-Bhayandar

Mira Road resident Vinam Kumar got back Rs50,000 out of Rs64,000 which he lost to a power bill fraud, thanks to the swift action taken by the cybercrime cell of the Mira Bhayandar-Vasai Virar (MBVV) police. Cherry on the cake is that the cops have achieved the Rs1 crore-mark, which is the cumulative amount of such recoveries made from January till August 8.

The police said Kumar was targeted in the usual manner wherein fraudsters called him while posing as power company executive.

Thane: The vice-president of the state BJP's Mahila Morcha, Rida Rashid, has written to Chief Minister Eknath Shinde, Deputy CM and home minister Devendra Fadnis and Thane Commissioner of Police Jai Jeet Singh, demanding a thorough investigation into the Mumbai police raid on a toy dealer wherein Rs30 crore was seized and Rs6 crore was allegedly extorted to release the money.
